Please enclose the following documents:
- Title and abstract of the Software in English language (approximately 5 lines);
- Detailed description of the Software, including problem, current scientific state of the art, problem solution by the Software, advantages of the Software vis-a-vis current scientific state of the art;
- If available, manuscripts of intended own publications, and existing publications of third parties about the current scientific state of the art.

2. Authors of the Software

a) Contribution of persons working at the MPI

The following persons have made a contribution to the Software while working at the MPI
